ADM offers stable, long-life oils to meet consumer demands for healthier frying of savory and sweet foods.

Our portfolio features a wide range of quality, consistent oils selected with your goals in mind, whether you would like to reduce saturated fat or lower trans fat.

Choose individual oils or request blends customized for your needs. We will work with you to identify the option that performs best for you while maintaining the flavor and appearance of your fried foods and snacks.

We obtain our products and refine them in multiple locations worldwide, providing us the flexibility of offering oils from palm and palm olein to sun and canola, including both high oleic and standard options.

Our products are available both in bulk and packaged sizes.
