NATURAL-SOURCE VEGETABLE ALTERNATIVES TO ANIMAL FAT

Understanding the unique needs of sensitive markets such as infant formulations and baby foods, ADM has developed a high quality range of vegetable-based oils and fats.

For baby and infant meals, we offer a wide selection of naturally sourced oils and fats to help provide a balanced nutritional profile in your products.

Choose from our portfolio and work closely with our technical specialists to select ingredients that meet your requirements for specific fatty acid contents and profiles.

With more than 50 years of experience in this area, we can offer tailor made formulations including ingredients such as fat-soluble vitamins; lecithin; and medium chain triglycerides (MCTs), which the body uses very quickly.
