BIODIESEL PRODUCTION

EXCELLENT QUALITY AND DISTRIBUTION FROM A GLOBAL LEADER

For high quality and consistent supply, choose a worldwide biofuels pioneer. ADM controls its biodiesel production from seed to fuel, providing the finest quality. An integrated global distribution system ensures reliable delivery to customers everywhere.

With three biodiesel production facilities in Germany, including the world's largest facility in Hamburg, we've established proven processes for quality assurance. We work closely with petroleum and automotive businesses, and OEMs continually rank our product outstanding for quality.

STRINGENT QUALITY CONTROL

Throughout the production process, from seed to biodiesel, we maintain stringent quality control in our production plants, laboratories and biodiesel facilities. From our own oilseed crushing facilities, we carefully select feedstocks to the same specifications each time to ensure consistent quality.

PATENTED PRODUCTION PROCESS

Using our proprietary method, the CD-Process, we produce biodiesel that is known throughout the market for its quality. This exclusive transesterification process enables us to produce only the highest-performing biodiesel from our raw materials.

INTEGRATED WORLDWIDE TRANSPORTATION NETWORK

ADM's vast global distribution network ensures reliable product delivery wherever you are. Our system integrates rail, river, road and ocean transport to help provide consistent supply.

GLOBAL R&D CAPABILITIES

As a biofuels pioneer, we have the experience and knowledge to help you succeed. Our global research-and-development staff provide support and expertise to produce the highest quality product using proven techniques from our successful production facilities.
